Recycle Story Contest Winning Story

My Nauna got me started in recycling when I was really little because the exercise I get from collecting and cleaning my bottles keeps my legs loose enough to walk and helps them not to get really stiff. Nauna also taught me that recycling is good for our planet and everything that lives and breathes. Then when I started school I began to understand a little better that recycling helps to save our planet and our animals from dying because of garbage in our land and waters and that the dumps have too much to bury any more and recycling saves money and helps people use less plastic and things that are not good.

When my Poppy travels for his job I even get him to bring all his recycling items home to me and my Uncle and Aunt save all theirs for me too then I save it all up and buy presents for Christmas and birthdays for my family. I think everyone should use the 3 R's REDUCE REUSE RECYCLE to help save our world and everything in it.
